at war, was considered a non-belligerent ally of England.

I don't mind the work or the calculation, and I don't mind the minor cost, but what I mind is these chilly nights and the risk of a heavy frost. For the plants are in that part of them, and tomatoes will sometimes freeze, so have a heart Mister Weatherman, be good to us farmers please. Keep the frost away till the summer's gone, let the evenings be warm and fine, so the garden will go as it ought to go, the

Democrats To Submit Revised Budget

Tax Reduction To Be Advocated

Legislative Session Is Now Well Into Fifth Month At Harrisburg

SPEED IS NEEDED ON FUND ACTION

By RAYMOND WILCOVE International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, May 19.—The General Assembly met today to receive a tax reduction program and a revised budget from the Democratic party.

More than three months of study by a Democratic house fact-finding committee was to be climaxed this week by the submission of a program calling for the reduction of the four-mill special emergency personal property tax, the taking over by the state of 12 county mental hospitals and increased state aid to schools.

To Report Tax Measures With the current session well into its fifth month, the house ways and means committee were ready to report out for enactment the entire state tax and fiscal program for the next biennium, which opens in two weeks. This spurt of activity on the part of the Democratic majority in the house coincided with a warning from Gov. Arthur H. James that "a few more days of political checker playing and it will be too late for relief payments to continue without interruption in June."

In a joint statement, House Majority Leader Leo A. Achtermann and Senate Minority Leader Harry Shapiro announced that the Democratic party would reduce taxes at this session and take the other outlined steps. "Within a few days," it was stated, "the Democratic party will show how this can be done in a 'budget message' to be delivered to the house. It will contain facts and figures, obtained after three months' plowing through the manufactured maze of muddled misinformation which the Republicans like to call a budget."

To Seek Reduction Indications were that the personal property tax would be reduced by about $10,000,000 a biennium. A hostile administration and Republican majority in the upper house awaited the Democratic program with ill-concealed impatience.

"My principal hope is that the estimates of the state's income tax were not made by the same Democratic gentlemen who in Pennsylvania in 1938 estimated a Democratic victory by more than half a million votes," commented Gov. Arthur H. James.

Governor James added, however, that "if anyone, Democrats or Republicans, can show me how to reduce taxes without jeopardizing the state's finances... no one will be better pleased than I will to follow the suggestions." The governor termed the Democratic study of his $542,000,000 budget "dilly-dallying."

apprehended at "The Jungle," a hobo's camp, by Detective John Cook of the P. & L. E. railroad. Gentile was warming himself at a fire when seized. He later was treated in the Jameson Memorial hospital for a lacerated ear which he had received in a tussle he had at the Patsy home following the shooting.

According to authorities, Gentile and the elder Patsy had been at a West Pittsburgh club during the afternoon. They assertedly played some sort of a game. It resulted in an argument, and according to authorities they learned the men engaged in a quarrel but were separated while in the club.

Gentile waited for Patsy to leave the club later, according to reports. When Patsy left, blows were exchanged on the outside. They were separated again, according to reports. Both then went to their homes on different streets.

Shots Are Fired

Shortly after eight o'clock Patsy, his wife, their son and daughter and two visitors, John Majeski and Bruce Attisano were in the kitchen of the Patsy home, which is in Fifteenth street. Gentile resides in Fourteenth street.

Gentile reportedly had secured a shotgun, then approached a small window which opens into a pantry of the Patsy home. The door between the pantry and kitchen was open.

He assertedly aimed the shotgun at the family, then pulled both triggers. The father was seated in such a way the charge did not hit him. Attisano and he rushed outside.

Patsy and Attisano wrestled the shotgun away from the powerful aged assailant. During the encounter Patsy knocked down Gentile. However, in the excitement Gentile escaped.

An alarm was telephoned to New Castle and the wounded, excepting Attisano were taken to the New Castle hospital while officers sped to the scene of the shooting.

Search Is Made

District Attorney John G. Lamoree, County Detective Paul Welch, State Motor policemen, headed by Robert McCullough, Sheriff M. M. Ingham and deputies George Dean, Clyde Badger, George Paul Stark, Thomas O'Brien, and Justice of the Peace Tony Isabella and Constable Walter Bannion joined in the investigation.

Residences of relatives, vacant barns, thickets and gullies were searched. The aged man could not be found. A teletype alarm was sent to Youngstown and other nearby cities to watch for him.

Sheriff Ingham and other officers went to the West Pittsburgh swamp. A hobo who was warming himself at a fire told the sheriff he had seen a man answering the description in the vicinity.

At three a. m. today Detective John Cook of the P. & L. E. saw a fire at the jungle camp (a place frequented by hobos) in the swamp and took Gentile into custody without resistance. Gentile was unarmed.

Sheriff Ingham took the prisoner to the Jameson Memorial hospital for treatment, the aged man having apparently sustained a laceration of an ear in the encounter which followed the shotgun barrage at the Patsy family.

It was stated at 10 a. m. today that District Attorney Lamoree would interrogate Gentile in the county jail today.

ZAMZAM MAY HAVE BEEN SUNK

officially confirmed in Cairo, said a surface raider operating in the south Atlantic sank the vessel.

The ship had left its pier at Jersey City March 20 and touched at Pernambuco, Brazil, April 10.

Missing For Week

It had been due at Cape Town, South Africa, April 21, but since then nothing has been heard of the ship, until today's announcement that it was lost somewhere between Pernambuco and Cape Town.

The British-American Ambulance Corps in New York said the vessel had been missing more than a week and was believed to have been the victim of a German raider.

Latest word in Cairo said 201 passengers were aboard the Zamzam among them a group of American field service ambulance drivers who were en route to Egypt to serve with British and "Free French" forces.

In recent months the Zamzam had carried many Americans home to the United States from the middle east.

Can't Locate Survivors

New York, May 19.—William V. C. Ruxton, president of the British-American Ambulance Corps, today revealed that the insurance underwriters of the ill-fated Egyptian liner Zamzam, reported lost in the south Atlantic with 120 Americans aboard, had made a thorough effort to locate survivors without success.

"This is a terrible blow," Ruxton, who heads the volunteer drivers organization, which had 24 of its members aboard the ship, declared. Ruxton, whose office had known for more than a week that the ship was overdue and presumably lost, said he would ask the state department to investigate.

"The Zamzam was a neutral ship," Ruxton declared. "It was carrying non-belligerent cargo."

"We believed we had taken every possible safeguard for the protection of these men in transit to Mombassa, Cortland, N. Y., where the family had stopped to spend the night while on an automobile trip."

Mrs. Elder, who had been married to Dr. Elder for 40 years, was an active member of the Presbyterian church and was prominent in Eastern Star, literary and civic organizations in Niles.

twin-trout at the junction of the Big and Little Neshannock streams near the campus. Coach Washabaugh opened the "scoring" when he snagged a 17-inch trout weighing two pounds and two ounces; and five minutes later, Professor Biberich pulled one out of the same spot exactly the same length. Upon weighing and measuring the fish later, they turned out to be "identical twins."

The recently completed Tionesta flood control dam, on Tionesta Creek, appears to be about as much an attraction for sightseers as the Pymatuning was in its earlier days. Large numbers of autoists were congregated in the vicinity of the huge Tionesta dam on Sunday afternoon.

Another light frost, which did not do any further damage, however, was reported on Sunday morning, when the mercury dropped down to the freezing point in many parts of the county. The official weather recording station mark was 33 degrees.

NEW MAJOR STEP TO HELP BRITAIN BEING FORECAST

presidential advisers are declaring that the present American leadership aid to Britain is not sufficient to guarantee a British victory over Germany. If Britain falls they add, the security of the United States is endangered.

Non-interventionists, challenging this new note, call such contentions "defeatism." Non-interventionists declare that the United States can preserve itself, if it remains, because free labor has always defeated slave labor.

The President was believed to have hinted at some grave decision in the near future, when he declared, in connection with National Foreign Trade Week, that:

"It is idle for us to talk of future foreign trade unless we are ready, now, to defend the principles upon which it is and must be based."

Capitol talk heavily emphasizes the word "now" in his statement.

Proceeds Cautiously General opinion in Washington is that the President is proceeding cautiously, naturally, because of the grave consequences that accompany current international decisions but also because public opinion throughout the nation—as revealed in polls—is still opposed to war.

But belief will not down that some event of world-wide importance is about to break. This belief does not encompass an outright declaration of war against Germany, because Congress would have to act on that and Congress today is not ready for

Congratulations Mr. R. L. Boyd:
All our lives it has been a great pleasure to us to hear of, or personally know, a man or woman who has made a success. For we know that success only comes through hard work. Being a funeral director for forty-two years, we know how many long hours, how many disappointments and how much planning that it takes to be successful. Success never comes to anyone unless they work for it.
Therefore, we want to congratulate Mr. R. L. Boyd on arriving at the goal, or very near the goal, that he has been working toward for so many years. Sometimes the public holds it against a man because he has been successful, but those are the people who have never tried to get anywhere in life.
Again, the public should appreciate Mr. Boyd giving back to the community wherein he resides, a large portion of the money they have given to him, by giving them a beautiful funeral home and equipment. May he live many years to enjoy this, and add even more to what he already has, as a successful man never quits.
Again, we congratulate you Mr. R. L. Boyd.

HELEN LOUISE MILLER WEDS ROBERT FINNICK

In the Leasure avenue home of her grandfather, J. Lewis Moseley, at high noon Saturday, May 17, Miss Helen Louise Miller, only daughter of Mrs. Mary Moseley Miller of Park avenue, became the bride of Robert D. Finnick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Finnick of Butler, Pa.

Before an improvised altar of palms, ferns and lilies in the living room of the home, Rev. William V. McLean, pastor of the First Methodist church of this city, read the simple and beautiful single ring service. Only immediate members of both families and a few intimate friends witnessed the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her grandfather, was lovely in a smartly tailored dress of sand silk jersey, with a large off-the-face picture hat of navy felt, and her accessories were in navy. Her bridal corsage was a single purple orchid and valley lilies.

Miss Elizabeth Slapnickar of this city was her maid of honor, and she was attired in a frock of rose crepe, with a large picture hat of navy straw, with navy accessories, and a corsage of talisman roses and sweet peas.

Ralph Finnick, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Following a congratulatory period, a buffet luncheon was served. The rooms were attractively decorated with garden flowers, and at the bride table the white and crystal color scheme was used.

Centering the table was a low arrangement of white carnations, snapdragons and baby's breath, with tall white graduated tapers in crystal candelabra at either end. The traditional white and gold tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom, held the place of honor.

At a later hour the bride and groom left for a motor trip to Washington, D. C., Gettysburg, and other points of interest. For travel Mrs. Finnick chose a tailored rose wool ensemble with sand and brown accessories.

After June 1 Mr. and Mrs. Finnick will be at home to their friends in Butler.

The bride is a graduate of the New Castle Senior high school, and has been employed at the Bell Telephone company. Mr. Finnick graduated from the Harlansburg high school, and is affiliated in business in Butler.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

BETTER RULE LATE THAN NEVER.

Perhaps you have been led astray by the doctrine that the little child never should be restrained—never spanked—but always should be reasoned with and diverted from wrong-doing by distraction and persuasion. Suppose in consequence you have a child six, eight or ten who rarely recognizes your authority. What are you going to do about it?

The chances are that emergencies have arisen when you were so distraught that your feelings got the better of you, in a fit of anger you spanked the child. Almost surely you have scolded him or spoken shrilly to him. But you probably have discovered that he has grown more unmanageable all the while.

What remorse you suffer from your loss of self-control! For two very good reasons, your final attempt at physical punishment was ineffectual. It was not chosen nor administered at moments when you were wholly reasonable and self-controlled. It was begun and has been practiced very late.

A Definite Plan

The problem can be corrected, however, even though the child is ten years old. Make a definite plan and stick to it. Needless to say the task grows increasingly difficult to you and the child, the longer effectual training in the meaning of NO had been delayed.

In order to succeed, both parents should sit down together when the child concerned is not around and decide on a definite program that they are sure will work. They will center their attention on only two important misdemeanors, agreeing to ignore all others less important for the time.

Provided they agree that some physical force will be necessary, they also must agree to limit it solely to inhibitions, and not to making the child do things. They will aim first to establish NO as final, without doubt or argument. Their success will depend chiefly on how rarely they use this monosyllable.

Forbidden Conduct

The specific item of forbidden conduct will calmly be announced to the child and the parents will name the penalty if the act is repeated. Suppose the penalty should be to sit doing nothing for exactly half an hour as measured by the clock, or denial of some cherished privilege. If the child deliberately leaves before the allotted time is ended, a spanking is sometimes justified, provided all the while the parents had acted wholly unemotionally.

Once the child knows, without doubt, that back of every form of milder punishment there is in reserve a physical finality, he won't face the risk. The child who has fore he was three or four has had a few effective spankings to make NO final will never need a spanking.

If we want to abolish this punishment and wish to train children for good citizenship, we will teach them basic inhibitions about as soon as they can toddle. Then when they are six, eight or ten, they will seldom need punishment of any sort; perhaps none. And when they are in their teens, they may rarely have to hear a rebuke.

I still have on hand some reprints of a magazine article of mine entitled, "Do you spank your child?" to be had by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp.

The World and the Mud Puddles

SORRY BUSINESS.

Greenbelt, Maryland, represents one of Uncle Sam's most advertised housing developments. Its thirty-one hundred inhabitants have a government of their own and it is a self-sufficient community.

The total income for one year from this community amounts to $414,000. Operating expenses run a little more than $350,000. State and County taxes run about $120,000. This means that the community is operating at an annual deficit of between sixty and seventy thousand dollars, not taking into consideration the depreciation or interest on the $14,000,000 investment which the government made.

The cost of town government in Greenbelt is $85,000 or $27.42 per capita. The cost of local government in Annapolis, Maryland's capital is $13.23 per capita. The cost in three near-by towns with approximately the same population as Greenbelt is $6.94, $6.81 and $3.83. No economy here, surely. The frills represented by that $27.42 are, of course, part of the subsidy which Uncle Sam is giving residents of Greenbelt—a subsidy which totals about forty per cent for families of above average earnings, even though interest and depreciation are ignored.

The "admitted" deficit of Greenbelt is $66,000. If to this is added an interest and depreciation charge of five per cent, which is certainly modest, the deficit would go to $76,000 yearly—or nearly $250 for each man, woman and child in the community. This would mean a $1000 annual subsidy to each family.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight, 7:12; sun rises tomorrow, 4:41.

Wonder what would happen if Hitler would fly alone to England?

"Now that I have a frigidaire," said the careful wife to her husband, "see what you can do about an electric stenographer."

"THIS IS TRUE LOVE"
"I'd rather let him make me miserable than let you make me happy."

Many Americans are more concerned about things that may happen in this country than from an invasion of Hitler.

"The taxpayer," says an editorial, "needs a battle-cry." What about "Ouch!"

But officials don't think the nation injured by criticism of another official they heartily dislike.

"HORSE SENSE"
It may save many a needless accident on the highway or elsewhere. But what is it?

It's making use of the powers of reasoning with which God has endowed us.

It's putting 2 and 2 together and getting 4 as the answer.

It's thinking about what might happen, and decide what to do if it does happen.

It's avoiding trouble and not trying to cure it.

It's playing safe and not tempting Providence.

It's following advice when the advice is worth following.

In short, it's just "HORSE SENSE."

Father (intense with excitement): "Well, boy, what happened when you asked the boss for a raise?"

Son: "Why, he was like a lamb." Father: "What did he say?"

Son: "Baa."

"SPONGED CAKE"
Hubby: "What are we having for dessert tonight, dear?"

Wife: "Sponge cake. I sponged the eggs from Mrs. Brown, the flour from Mrs. Smith and the milk from Mrs. Jones."

"APPROPRIATE NAME"
Mistress: "You say your baby's name is Opium? What an odd name. You know opium is a product of the wild poppy, don't you?"

Mandy: "Yessum, an' if dey evah wuzz a chile had a wild poppy, she'd got one."

A Pittsburgh woman while feeding her dog in her back yard was hit by a part of an automobile when two automobiles collided in front of her home. Looks like we will have to have dugouts in this country to escape automobiles.

The Pennsylvania senate has agreed to extend the Dream Highway to the Ohio line. The next row will be what route it will take to that end. It will be all right, no matter how far it is from New Castle, just so we can get on it.

HiTe radio seems unfair. It tells us many ways to cure headache, but suggests nothing for a pain in the neck.

"I know a fellow who fell asleep in the bathtub with the water running."
"Oh. Did the tub overflow and ruin the floor?"
"No. He sleeps with his mouth open."

It's bad enough when a wife tries to have her husband killed for his life insurance, but when she tries to make it look like an accident so she can collect double insurance it's terrible.

"We have two small daughters 3 years apart. The younger one is a naturally vivacious, attractive youngster; the older is reticent and somewhat shy. My wife's natural impulse is to make a fuss over the younger and forget her sister. I try to make up to the 'neglected' child but don't you think a mother's love is definitely essential?"—Daddy.

Answer: I not only think so. I know so! If your wife has any interest in the future of her shy and reticent child, she will give her the love and attention which every child deserves and longs for. Lack of these may have a bad psychological effect producing a bitterness and enviousness from which she may never recover throughout her life. Whatever you give to one child, give an equal share to the other. No distinction should be shown in either material things or parental love. Candidly, the shy, reticent child should receive the lion's share—if either should. She should be so treated to prevent the development of an inferiority complex. Children who lack parental love develop dangerous phobias—as witness Stalin and Hitler—both of whom are alleged to have had drunkard fathers who treated them cruelly when they condescended to notice them at all.

Question: I have a set of fruit knives. When and where should they be placed on the table?—Virginia.

Answer: They should be used whenever fruit is served. The fruit fork and knife are not placed on the table when it is set. They are brought in with the dessert. When the fruit plate with the finger bowl and dolly between are brought in, the fork should be placed on the left side of the finger bowl and the knife on the right side.

Question: A few days ago, my husband was invited to a party, at which there were both men and women. I received no invitation. Is this not unusual? Just what is my position and should my husband attend?—Mrs. H. S.

Answer: It is very unusual. It occurred either through an oversight or through gross ignorance. An invitation to anything other than a stag party should never be sent to a married man unless his wife is included. The only other exception is, of course, business conferences where only those (both men and women) directly concerned need be invited. Your husband should show his disapproval by declining.

What May Happen
The production is, however, that there'll be a developing shortage of civilian consumer goods—some foods, clothing and other merchandise. Accompanying it, judging from past experience, there's likely to be a tendency toward that upward spiral in prices, and there've been times when it's been a terrific spiral. To consumers, on fixed incomes, it's a mean thing to have happen while it's happening. It likewise is another kind of a mean thing later, when the emergency that caused it passes and prices slump back to normal.

Oh, yes, the price slump is a blessing to the fixed income—if he hangs onto his income. The trouble is that this secondary period is known as "deflation"—in other words, an "economic depression."

Business As Usual Is Not Possible
National Emergency Upsets Normalcy
Production Up On Everything In Land

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 19.—"Business as usual is out," Purchasing Director Donald M. Nelson of Uncle Sam's Office of Production Management tells us. Business can't possibly be as usual, Donald explains, with everything else as unusual as the present national emergency can make it—and that's about 100 per cent of unusuality.

Nevertheless, Don admits, ordinary consumers do have to live. Otherwise, if they starve to death, due to the drain on us for defensive purposes and shipments to the warring overseas democracies, how can they go on producing for our own defense and for the democracies' benefit? So that can't be permitted, Purchasing Director Nelson agrees. To be sure, Don doesn't anticipate literally complete exhaustion of all the necessities of civilian life, but he does foresee a coming scarcity of 'em. And the danger is that, as they become scarcer and scarcer, prices for 'em will spiral upward and upward. From the consumer's standpoint it makes no particular difference whether he starves to death because life's necessities, positively aren't to be had or because they cost so much that he hasn't got the money to pay for 'em.

Producing like fury, to offset, at least partially, the shrinkage in the volume of the stuff we civilians have got to have, is important. This production boosting is essentially the job of Director Bill Knudsen's Office of Production Management. Bill is plugging for increased production alone. He's plugging also for increased civilian production.

Mary Jane Corbett To Speak Tuesday At Annual Meeting

Miss Mary Jane Corbett will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting in the Y. W. C. A. Tuesday evening. Her subject will be "How Brazil Educated an American."

Miss Corbett, who has been in Rio, Brazil, for twelve years, says feeling toward the United States in Brazil is very good. There has been a long history of fellowship between the two nations. At present, there is no economic rivalry between the two nations with, so far as trade goes, the United States being Brazil's best customer and buying half of her coffee.

Although the Y. W. C. A. of Brazil is the oldest women's organization in the country, it will be only 21 years old in June of this year. The work of the Y. W. C. A. is necessarily one of pioneering and of demonstration.

Preceding Miss Corbett's talk, Mrs. Robert Meade Patterson will lead the devotional service, and following there will be a short business period for suggestions from the members about program needs for next year's budget. The report of the tellers and refreshments will close the meeting.

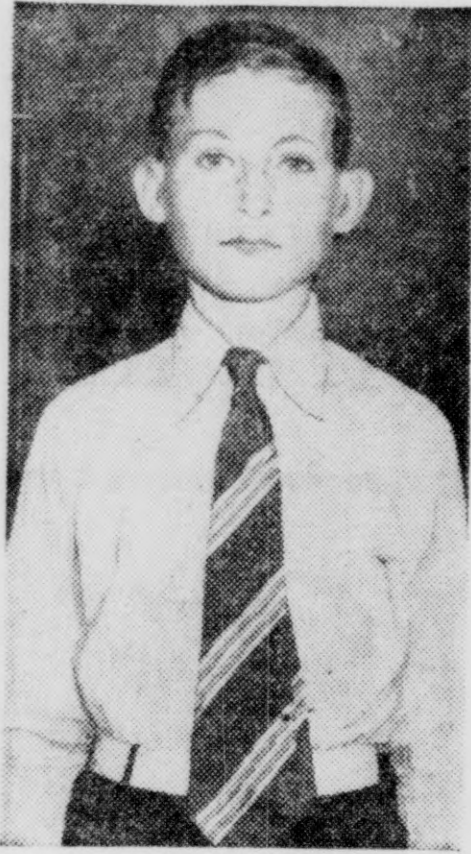

All members of the Y. W. C. A. have been invited to attend this annual membership meeting.

Mountain Laurel Nears Full Beauty

Achieves Full Beauty During Latter Part Of May And Early In June

(Special To The News)
HARRISBURG, May 19.—Mountain laurel, officially chosen by the 1933 legislature as the state flower of Pennsylvania, usually achieves its beauty during the latter part of May and in June, according to John R. Williams, chief of the bureau of parks in the Department of Forests and Waters.

Few, if any, flowers are more beautiful in color, design and symmetry than that of mountain laurel. The numerous pink to white blooms are borne in dense, many flowered clusters. The evergreen foliage is very decorative, contrasting well with the red and yellow branches. Mountain laurel is usually considered a shrub in Pennsylvania, seldom reaching a height of over 10 feet, but in some of the southern states grows 40 feet in height and with diameters of 20 inches have been reported.

Mountain laurel or one of its varieties are desirable ornamentals for the beautifying of home grounds. Small plants are readily propagated from seeds sown in sandy, peaty soil in pans or boxes during the spring and kept in a cold frame or greenhouse. Transplanting can be done successfully in either early spring or fall. It must be remembered that laurel like rhododendron dislikes clay and limestone soil, but thrives in sandy or loamy soils.

To insure good establishment after transplanting, a large, deep hole should be dug and partly filled with soil and decayed organic matter gathered in the locality where the plant grew in its natural state. After careful transplanting the soil should be kept moist until the plant becomes established in its new home. Mulching with leaves is advisable during the first season to keep the roots moist in summer and as a protection from the frost in winter. Yearly application of a leaf mould or an acid fertilizer of aluminum sulphate is beneficial. The practice of collecting large quantities from privately owned lands for transplanting for decorative purposes is not always deemed advisable.

The closely related but no so widely distributed sheep laurel is smaller in all respects and seldom reaches three feet in height. Flowers of this plant appear a few weeks after mountain laurel produces its flowers. Swamp laurel, a low shrub, is also occasionally found in Pennsylvania.

Leaves of the mountain and sheep laurel are poisonous when eaten by animals or people. Children should be cautioned not to eat the young tender leaves which may be mistaken for wintergreen. Mr. Williams points out that exceptional large blooms of laurel can be seen in the state forests, which in most instances are accessible by good roads. Laurel is protected in the state forests by law and should not be gathered.

Forty Different Dogwood Species

Six Are Found In State Forests Of Pennsylvania According To State Experts

(Special To The News)
HARRISBURG, May 19.—There are forty different species of dogwood in the Northern Hemisphere, six of which are commonly found in the state forests of Pennsylvania, according to W. E. Montgomery, chief of the bureau of management, in the department of forests and waters.

Dogwoods are frequently used for ornamental purposes as they have attractive flowers in the spring and the fruit often assumes a brilliant color in the fall. They are hardy and will thrive in almost any soil or location.

The name dogwood for this interesting group of plants is derived from the fact that a decoction of the bark from a European species was used in England to wash dogs that were affected with skin disease. The flowering dogwood serves as a useful substitute for quinine and it is sometimes used by people living in mountainous sections to ward off colds and fever by merely chewing the twigs. The powdered bark is frequently used in the preparation of tooth powder and when mixed with sulphate of iron will make a good quality of black ink. The bark of roots yields a scarlet dye.

Although flowering dogwood is valuable for ornamental purposes and for its hard and strong wood, it does not reach a suitable size in Pennsylvania to be of commercial importance. Because of its beauty this small tree is protected in state forest areas. This protection is not only effectuated in preventing the mutilation and destruction of this beautiful little tree by visitors to the forests but the department of forests and waters in conducting its cultural operations on the state forests prohibits its removal.

DUKE OF AOSTA SURRENDERS HIS ITALIAN FORCES

conceding the previous day that it had been seized by the British. The Nazi communiqué on Saturday claimed the British had been driven out by a joint Italo-German counter-attack.

Heavy fighting was reported still progressing along the Libyan-Egyptian border area and in the vicinity of Fort Capuzzo.

British authorities were elated by the news that the Duke of Aosta had accepted the British terms in reply to his offer to surrender Amba Alagi.

But it was not yet known whether the Fascist Duke himself was among the estimated 7,000 Italians at Amba Alagi who now become prisoners in the hands of the British.

Duke Prisoner

(In Rome the Italian high command conceded that Amba Alagi had surrendered to the British and that the Duke of Aosta had been taken prisoner.)

Previously military authorities in Cairo had stated the British would insist that the Duke give himself up.

There was likewise no definite word as to whether the Ethiopian towns of Gondar and Jimma are included in the surrender terms.

An earlier British communiqué announced destruction of at least 21 German planes and damaging bomb hits on 20 more in R. A. F. combat operations that extended from Iraq to Ethiopia and included Greece, Crete, the Suez Canal area and eastern Libya.

The communiqué announcing this aerial victory was the first official British disclosure that German planes as well as Italian craft were operating on the Ethiopian front.

According to the announcement, the 20 damaged German craft were parked at the Hassani airfield in Greece, where they were bombed by long-distance R. A. F. units.

Sought Surrender Terms

Simultaneously a communiqué of the British middle east command revealed the Duke of Aosta, viceroy of Ethiopia, "sent emissaries to seek terms of surrender" after British Imperial forces, supported by the R. A. F., surrounded Amba Alagi in northern Ethiopia.

According to a military spokesman the British terms for surrender of Amba Alagi have been delivered to the Duke of Aosta's emissary and

"include the surrender of the Duke himself, the general commanding and the Italian forces there."

Surrender Announced

Rome, May 19.—Surrender of Amba Alagi in Ethiopia to British forces was announced by the Italian high command today. The communiqué said the Duke of Aosta, Italian viceroy of Ethiopia, has been taken prisoner.

Italian troops at Amba Alagi capitulated after offering resistance which, the communiqué said, had been "prolonged to utmost" before they were forced to cease fighting. "In recognition of their bravery," the bulletin added, "our troops were allowed to keep their weapons."

Two Ohio Wives Want Husbands Drafted At Once

(International News Service)
WAPAKONETA, O., Feb. 28.—At least two Anglize county women have asked the county draft board, rather than the domestic relations court to settle their marital problems.

One wife asked the board to place her husband in the A-1 classification, available for immediate service, because "he is running around with other women."

Another spouse explained that her husband had gone to his parents' home with the statement that he no longer could support her. She preferred, she said, to have him in the army rather than live at home.

HAS EYE INJURED

thing about it, and under the reciprocal plan, these beneficiaries, in turn, give similar aid to their neighbors. Citizens join the society with minimum dues of 50 cents a year, but voluntary contributions running up to as high as $500. There isn't a penny of administration expense, and there is a contribution not only of goods but of services. Somebody needs shoes for the children. The society buys the leather and the cobblers contribute the work. Similarly the professional services of dentists and doctors are contributed. The coal dealer contributes a needed ton of coal and the truck driver contributes his work of delivering it.

The work of the society is carefully organized through the entire town, so that any member, hearing of some immediate necessity, can procure immediate aid, with no red tape whatsoever and nobody knowing anything about it. It's 100 per cent human.

In Suffern, as in other towns, there are always a few empty chairs on the graduation platform. Some boys and girls can't swing the new suit or new dress. They will be quietly attended to in Suffern. And the rule is to supply the need and investigate afterward. Obviously, investigation is required to guard against fakes and malingerers, but so far none such has appeared. Much attention is given to the health of children. School inspection may show serious ailments or defects. Families on relief would send their children promptly to the clinic, but stubborn middle-class hold-outs against relief would put off action, hoping and striving to meet a doctor's bill in the good old-fashioned way. The society runs down these cases and gets the children ship-shape.

Mr. Cucolo came here from Naples in 1913, at the age of 16, and swarmed up to a sizeable fortune by the hard way—he is, incidentally, the builder of the Storm King by pass, the largest construction project in the Hudson Valley. He has a large family, with a boy in West Point and another one headed that way. In 1928 he began planning a system of co-operative community self-help. The depression years provided him a laboratory and stimulated more study and experiment. Last December he got his organization under way and its uniqueness and its startling success are bringing inquiries to Mr. Cucolo from all over the country.

"This country has done much for me and I wanted to do something for it," Mr. Cucolo told me. "Just giving money didn't seem to be enough. I thought about it for years and then I had an idea that if I went at it in the right way we could all really be neighbors and help each other. The more I thought about it, the more I thought that it would be best if we did work for each other, as if we were all partners. When we do that we have a better feeling for the place we live and want to do more for it and each other. That was the way it started."

DR. BENNETT WILL SPEAK

Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of First Christian church, will be a speaker at a meeting of the Central West district of the Y. M. C. A. in New Brighton Friday, May 23. He will speak on the aims of the United Service Organizations for National Defense, Inc., the group which plans to raise over $10,000,000 for "off post" recreational facilities for army and navy men and defense industry workers. Another speaker will be Dr. Wilson Sume of Lahore, India.

Important to any smoker... to you... no matter how much you smoke... because this extra mildness is in the smoke itself. After all, it's the smoke you smoke.

And Camels give you less nicotine in the smoke than any of the other 4 largest-selling brands tested... 28% less than the average of the other brands. Even if you're only an occasional smoker, you'll find Camel's extra mildness—extra freedom from nicotine in the smoke—can add to your smoking enjoyment. Switch to Camels now!

of four living in Greenbelt. This is a subsidy of more than $80 a month for a "normal" family. How many New Castle families, paying their taxes to Uncle Sam to support such enterprises as Greenbelt, can afford to pay $80 a month rent?

Greenbelt offers a very good picture of the government in business. If the government attempts to run the business of these United States, we are all sunk. A man like Andrew Mellon in government affairs is an accident. How many Andrew Mellons are there connected with the United States today; how many men of any business ability are running the affairs of this nation? It did seem that when the President chose William S. Knudsen that he had chosen a good man—a very fine man in business, but how much authority has he given to William S. Knudsen?—practically none.

Juniors Of Red Cross Convene

Entertain Sponsors At Meeting In Chapter House When Activities Are Reviewed

REPORTS SHOW MUCH WORK DONE

Junior Red Cross Council of the Lawrence county chapter entertained for their sponsors at a typical picnic supper held in the chapter house last week.

Preceding the dinner each sponsor was presented with a rose bud by the representative of the various councils in the schools. The supper was served by Mrs. William Cosel and Mrs. E. H. Wilmart, assisted by the Crawford-Oakridge N. Y. A. Center girls.

Dr. John Meehan, chairman of the Junior Red Cross, presided and after a few words of welcome and appreciation he turned the meeting over to Delores DeLorenzo, Ben Franklin Junior representative and the president of the City Junior Red Cross council. Delores called for reports from the schools represented and the entire meeting heard of an exceptionally fine program being carried on by the young people of the community. Outstanding among the city reports were those given by Pollock Avenue, Mahoning, Lincoln-Garfield, Croton, Arthur Magill and Ben Franklin. After receiving the city's reports. Delores called on the Junior representatives from Ellwood City.

The reports from Ellwood City showed a large health program under the leadership of the Junior Red Cross. With the assistance of Miss Edith Shrepp, school nurse, the Juniors have been advised throughout the year of needs of their classmates and these needs have been met by the Juniors solving the financial problem by using their own talents and their own initiative. Mrs. Boyd Barrett, chairman of the Junior Red Cross of the Ellwood City branch, paid tribute to her sponsors.

Miss Jones, sponsor of the Lincoln High school, has as her representative of the Junior council, Patty Clark. This is the first time the Junior Red Cross program has become a high school project and Patty's report was most interesting.

After Delores had received a full accounting of all the Red Cross activities she called upon the various sponsors present to give their reaction to the Junior Red Cross program. From the remarks made by the sponsors it was apparent they were enthusiastic over the splendid way in which the Juniors have conducted their own program. The highlight of the evening, however, was a short talk by Miss Ruth Young, who has been assisted throughout the year in her braille work by Juniors from Ben Franklin and George Washington Junior High. Miss Young paid tribute to the untiring efforts of the young people of the Junior council.

The following were in attendance: Hazel Lowe, Pollock; Ruth Lewis, Croton; Delores DeLorenzo, Ben Franklin; Patty Jo Leyde, Highland; Elizabeth Morrow, Highland; Margaret Lowery, Pollock; Miss Alice Grimes, Thaddeus; James Gillespie, Thaddeus; Jean Wilson, Croton; Barbara Marliacher, St. Joseph; Mildred Duncan, Oak street; Ruth Duncan, Oak street; Miss Nannie Mitchell, and representative, Mahoning; Patty Clark, Ellwood City; Manual Christos, Lincoln-Garfield; Patrick Preisel, St. Joseph; Robert Brunswick, West Side; Patsy Mastro, Hartman; George Berend, West End; two Juniors represented North Street school, Ewing Park, North Side, West End, North Side, and Circle schools; Miss Lois Smith, Arthur Magill; Graycie Trick, Arthur Magill; June Book, Lincoln-Garfield; Mrs. Frances Lowy, Ewing Park; Mildred Sanders, Hartman; Myrna Chambers, Lincoln High; J. Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

PLAY APPARATUS RECOMMENDED FOR DEVELOPING YOUNGER CHILDREN

In this column I have made several references to a "jungle gym" in connection with the physical development of the Dionne Quintuplets. Each time it has brought letters asking me what a jungle gym is, and so I'm providing more details.

It is as worthwhile a gadget as any parent could install in the backyard for the entertainment and exercise of their small children, and it requires little space.

The apparatus, which can be made by any handy man, is a square maze of ladders erected over a heavy solid which acts as a shock absorber in case of falls. It's usually about five feet high.

A horizontal bar, or a set of climbing bars with cross pieces at various heights, gives children the opportunity to develop their arm and leg muscles and, just as important, their confidence. Climbing and balance are natural instincts in children and should be given natural and safe outlets. The "jungle gym" is simply a grouping of such bars, which can be ordinary small plumbing pipes.

A swing and a slide can be attached to the same supports. A slide built not too high, with a ladder leading up to the platform at top, develops sureness of step, balance and fearlessness.

Apartment-dwellers who do not have a backyard or terrace where there can be a jungle gym for the youngsters, can at least place a swing in one of the doorways. No type of plaything is more important in childhood than exercise apparatus.

The Dionne Quintuplets had their first experience with the "jungle gym" when they were about two years old. They have outgrown it now, but for about three years, it was about the most important piece of furniture we had around the place.

When the gym was first set up in the yard, we were worried for it seemed so high for the little tots and we were so used to taking extra special care of them that I was fearful of injuries. So at first when they climbed, I had nurses beside them to catch them if they fell. But the Quints quickly began clambering over it like little monkeys. Of course, they had their falls. Some of them right from the top.

One day Yvonne fell, when not much more than two, from the top of the apparatus, and lit rather forcefully on her seat. The nurses and I, over, expecting to find she had broken a bone or two. She just sat there, uttered a very expressive "Oh," and then got up. She didn't cry, but climbed right back to the top of it again.

For from the start the Quints considered the gym as a game. If they took a tumble, they felt they were letting the gym beat them. So they went back to lick it. Consequently it wasn't long before they were acting like circus acrobats on it. Many a time I have heard a gasp of anticipation go up from amongst spectators as one or two of the Quints performed some extraordinary-looking feat or other.

The effect of it in the development of their muscles and strength in their arms and backs and legs was apparent. The apparatus contributed both happiness and health.

The records are taken from the records in Mercer county of which county Lawrence was once a part. The records are all copied in a legible hand and there are some interesting deeds in the volume. Names like Whippo, Reynolds, Chenoweth, Cooper, and others that are familiar in this county are seen.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Smothered in mushrooms—yum yum.

The mushroom is an edible and tasty fungus in most varieties.

One member of the mushroom family, the toadstool, is poisonous.

Since earliest times man has eaten the wrong kind of mushroom.

There have been many fatal cases recently of poisoning.

Perhaps the younger generation doesn't know a toadstool at sight.

Safe mushrooms have pink, bright colored gills underneath.

The poisonous type has white gills and white spores.

The toadstool has a tough and watery meat, scaly or spotted.

Symptoms of poisoning develop a few hours after eating the toadstool.

Abdominal pains are severe, nausea and vomiting are extreme.

Symptoms, once developed, rapidly lead to death.

There's something lacking. This crop of soldiers hasn't yet invented any such stirring cry as the old "Remember the Maine!" or "When do we eat?"

New Castle Man Given Honors Down In Panama

Technical Sergeant George Loudon, general Y. M. C. A. Amateur Show Master of Ceremonies, has been selected by Colonel Edwin J. House, commanding officer of France Field, Panama, R. P., as director of ceremonies of the "Air Corps" Draftettes' dance at France Field.

Sergeant Loudon, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Loudon of Lathrop street, this city, has been nearly fifteen years with the Army Air Corps, ten of which were spent at Langley Field, Va., and nearly five in Panama. At the present time he is non-commissioned officer in charge of classification of enlisted men at France Field. This classification consists of interviewing and testing new men to determine the type of duty they are best suited for in the service and resembles the Vocational Guidance and Binit-Simon intelligence tests given to high school and college students in the United States.

Sergeant Loudon was born and attended the schools in New Castle, and after graduation he was employed by the Pennsylvania Engineering Works. Enlisting in the Regular Army at nineteen he has risen rapidly to outstanding positions in the entertainment field in both Army and civilian circles.

Since going to Panama, Sergeant Loudon has been active in Y. M. C. A. work, having gained popularity as master of ceremonies for the Y. M. C. A. amateur show. He served as committee chairman and master of ceremonies at the recent Pan-American Day program which received such favorable comment in Panama and other Latin American countries. He was lecturer and guide for the "Y" and has written a number of articles on the San Blas Indians, San Lorenzo and Porto Bello. These articles were published by the Y. M. C. A. and the Army.

Sergeant Loudon has announced the Army and Golden Glove pugilistic matches and served on the civilian committees of the Atlantic Side for the Fourth of July celebration, the President's Ball and the Christmas entertainment. He was also one of the organizers and first commander of Simon Bolivar Post No. 251 Regular Veterans Association.

Religiously inclined, Serg. Loudon is superintendent of the Cristobal Union Sunday school, and on Sunday evenings he is chairman of the religious work committee at the Y. M. C. A. He is also a member of the Y. M. C. A. choir and the Y. M. C. A. band.

In his own words Sergeant Loudon admitted that the "Air Corps Draftettes" as an organization "were the finest thing that ever hit France Field to provide good clean, wholesome entertainment for the enlisted men and a distinct credit to their organizer, Colonel Edwin J. House."

BITS OF NEWS IN WARD AREA

A little paint that was applied to the walls of the building at the Progressive club athletic field has done a great deal to improve the appearance of the structure.

There appears to be but very little athletic activity in the Seventh Ward this year. Perhaps the increased number of jobs in private industry has had some effect on this situation.

Mahoningtown's three playgrounds are proving to be popular places even this early in the season. The Crawford-Oakridge playground Atlantic avenue, has youngsters playing from dawn to dusk. The Progressive playground and the South Liberty street playground are also popular.

Plans have been made to have the authorities punish a person or persons who damage or misuse the Progressive club playground or ball field this coming season. The club officials have been given authority by district officials to be a little bit more stern this season.

News items intended for the Seventh Ward News column may be left at Solomon's News Stand, North Liberty street.

District Rally Is Held By Sodalties

Officers From Pittsburgh Sodality Have Charge In St. Mary's Auditorium

Sodalities, their activities and purposes were fully discussed Sunday afternoon at the district rally conducted in St. Mary's auditorium by officers of the North Union Sodality of Pittsburgh and the Rev. Fr. Coleman T. Carroll, director of the sodality.

A large group of the local church sodalities participated in the event. St. Mary's group being hosts. An informal discussion period of the various committee groups took place and yearly reports were given by the following presidents and chairmen of the sodalities: Mary Alice Carey, president of St. Mary's group; Rita Metz, secretary of the St. Joseph's group; Eva Malley, of the Croton branch of St. Vitus sodality; Angeline LaStracca of St. Lucy's; Margaret Reichart of St. Margaret's church; Rev. Fr. Francis Paul of St. Agatha's, Ellwood City, spoke in behalf of the sodality.

Speakers for the district rally included: Mary McGarry, president of the North Union sodality who presided in a capable manner; Elizabeth Weisel; Florence Trail, corresponding secretary of the North Union sodality. Miss Trail emphasized what the sodality can accomplish as a whole, as well as the sodalists individually. Rev. Fr. Leo S. Watterston of St. Mary's gave an interesting talk on the eucharistic committee, and the work of that various committee in the sodality. Its purpose and its reward for the sodalists, were also cited.

The Rev. Fr. Coleman T. Carroll, spiritual director of the sodality, was the principal speaker, and spoke about the summer school to be held during the month of August in Pittsburgh. Sodality and their accomplishments and their work were discussed by the guest speaker, Father Carroll also told of the speaker's committee, composed of well trained speakers, members of which will attend any local sodality meeting upon request. Father Carroll was also in charge of the discussion period which followed concerning the activities of local sodalities. Another guest present from Pittsburgh was Margaret Rodgers.

Following the business meeting of the rally, an amusing skit in the form of a magazine minstrel was presented by members of the St. Joseph's sodality, under the direction of Rev. Fr. William J. Erkens, of St. Joseph's church. Those who participated in the presentation were: Elizabeth Sansoni, Kathleen Blake, Josephine Tardio, Josephine Ritchie, Rita Micaletti, Helen Ritchie, Pauline Peluso, Loretta and Leota Fleeger, Dorothy Krueger, Rita Metz, Elizabeth Pagley, Charlotte Leonardo, Kathryn Duff, Isabelle and Eileen Crable. During the program various appropriate songs were sung, duets and readings were also given. The sodality song, "For Christ the King," brought the session to a close.

Don't expect much from those you do most for. Taking becomes a mental habit, and then the need to give seems an imposition.

Chicago Cubs Trim Dodgers

League Leaders Lose To Cubs In Sunday Game, Cardinals Win And Advance

INDIANS WALLOPED

BY LOWLY MACKS

By LAWTON CARVER

NEW YORK, May 19.—The St. Louis Cardinals stand just one game behind the leading Brooklyn Dodgers in the National League pennant race today, while the champion Cincinnati Reds are nine games farther to the rear and still struggling. The latter are down in the neighborhood of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Philadelphia Phillies. In other words the Reds don't look much like champions. The Dodgers and Cardinals do.

While the Reds finally broke a six-game losing streak by trimming the Boston Braves 4 to 3 yesterday, the Dodgers dropped one by 7 to 4 to the Chicago Cubs and the Cardinals slammed their way to a neat win over the Philadelphia Phillies, 6 to 5.

The remaining Sabbath National League contest went to the Giants over the Pittsburgh Pirates, highlight of this encounter being Bill McGee's first start as a Giant. He belted out in the second inning. The Chicago White Sox, Detroit Tigers and New York Yankees all gained a full game on the leading Cleveland Indians in the American league, but all of them also remained well off the pace the Indians have been setting. The tribe's defeat of yesterday amounted to outright humiliation. The Philadelphia Athletics did it by 10 to 3.

The White Sox scored five runs in the last three frames to beat the Washington Senators, 10 to 5, and thus hang on to second place, while the Tigers were downing the Boston Red Sox, 6 to 5, in 11 innings, highlight of this encounter being a homer by Jimmy Fox in the last half of the 11th, which failed to win. Lefty Grove and Buck Newson edged to finish.

The Yankees blasted the St. Louis Browns by 12 to 1, with Lefty Gomez going the route to victory and pulling the Yanks into a tie with the Red Sox for fourth place.

Cincy's Slump Is His Excuse

CINCINNATI—Cincinnati's diehards are being driven to drink by the Reds' miserable showing thus far.

An ice cream vendor at Crosley Field was booked on an intoxication charge recently. A prosecuting attorney addressed the court:

"I think he has a right to get drunk the way the Reds are losing."

"Right," agreed his honor, "costs remitted."

Mitchell-Cooper New Castle Stars

Mitchell of New Castle High ran a fine race to take second place in the mile at the annual W. P. I. A. L. meet at the Pitt stadium on Saturday to give New Castle High four points in this event, and this score together with a tie for fifth in the high jump by Cooper, and a fifth by Cooper in the 120 high hurdles, gave New Castle 6½ points in the meet.

Clark of New Castle got a point for fifth in the mile event that was won by Palmer of Canonsburg and in which Mitchell finished second. The time was 4 minutes and 42.8 seconds, a very fast high school mile.

The meet was won by Derry Township with a score of 23½ points, having a well balanced team. Finishing second was Donora with 21½ points.

Titans Are Scheduled For Madison Square Gardens Next Season

NEW WILMINGTON, May 19.—A Madison Square Garden game in New York City, with Brooklyn college as the opposition, will headline the 1941-42 basketball schedule for the Westminster Titan cagers. The Brooklyn-Westminster game will be on a double-header billing, with Rhode Island and Seton Hall playing the other game.

Westminster's 1940-41 state and district champions will have the hardest 20-game billing ever assigned to a Titan squad. Included on the roster are two games each with Duquesne, Waynesburg, Geneva, Carnegie Tech, Youngstown, Slippery Rock and Bethany, and single games with W. and J. Villanova, Pitt, Millersville, West Chester and Brooklyn college.

Focusing the sports spotlight here and there:

Members of the Ellwood City-Wampum Rod and Gun clubs are in a quandary. Sheriff "Cy" draws the blame. The club stage weekly shoots. Up to Saturday our sharp-eyed sheriff, ranked one, two, three with the best shooting sheriffs in the biz, was batting 1000; two shots, two victories. Unless something is done, the sponsors fear "Cy" will ruin business.

The baseball world will know this season whether or not it is possible to buy a major league pennant. Larry MacPhail, the Dodgers' colorful mogul, will offer the solution. Every time you look around, MacPhail is removing the rubber band from his roll, buying off some baseball chatter he wants.

In the past year MacPhail has spent close to $350,000 for players, purchasing in addition to his latest, Billy Herman, Joe Medwick, Curt Davis, Mickey Owen, Kirby Hobe, Alex Karpouris (now released) and Mace Brown. Barring unforeseen mishaps, the answer seems to be in the affirmative.

An old charge, which usually pops up dozens of times every season, is up for discussion again. The New York Yankees accuse Tommy Bridges of tossing the spitball. Joe Gordon, particularly, is sure Bridges hit him.

Gene Sarazen, the old-time golf expert, is endeavoring to talk army officials into staging a military open this season. Buddy Baer says he'll knock out Joe Louis with a right. While he's shooting the supposed-to-be kayo punch, what does Baer think Louis will be doing, waving at some of his ringside friends.

Appreciation By Burgess

Ellwood City, Pa.
May 19, 1941.

To the Citizens of the Borough of Ellwood City, Pa.:
I am glad to express my personal appreciation to all those throughout our city, who devoted their time and energy to Clean Up Week in our city.

It is truly, in good public service when civic minded men and women, in all parts of our borough in co-operation with the municipal departments, unite for the accomplishments of greater health and beauty in our homes and community.

It is a further expression of what we in Ellwood City can do through united effort to improve our health and living conditions in just a few days.

After all, there is nothing that can replace that pride which comes down from a clean and well kept home, and a well developed and beautiful community in which to live.

Again I am proud of the fine work that was done by all the people. That we may have a cleaner town, so let us "Keep It Up" by being "Cleaned Up" and fixed up. Sincerely Yours,

WILLIAM MCGILINCY, Burgess.

Shelby Chorus Wins Welsh Song Festival

Prize Of $150 Given To Local Singers At Annual Competition On Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, May 19.—Great honor was brought to Ellwood City on Saturday evening when the Shelby male chorus of the National Tube company won the male chorus contest of the Trumbull County Elstiedford and American Gorsedd Conclave held at the Harding High school, Warren, O. The prize for winning the contest was $150.

The competitive number was "Night and Dawn" by John Jones Owen, and the second number of their own selection was "Swan White Song" arranged by Le Mon.

Adjudicators were Dr. Charles D. Howe, Cleveland, and John T. Roberts, M. B. Utica, N. Y., and they highly complimented the local chorus in the rendition of the selections, and the perfect manner in which they followed their director.

The chorus of fifty voices is directed by James F. Croft, and Miss Irene Rotnour is the accompanist.

This marked the closing appearance of the chorus. Already a number of engagements have been made for early fall.

STOCKS

Stock Market Limit Narrow

Market Opens New Week By Backing And Filling With Extremely Narrow
Trend

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 19.—The stock market was colorless in forenoon dealings today, as leaders backed and filled within extremely narrow limits. Combined price averages were barely changed and many individual issues were pegged at Saturday's closing levels.

Several leaders, including Bethlehem, Chrysler and General Motors, made their initial appearance around 10:15 a. m. Pennsylvania R. R.'s first sale was made early in the second hour.

Steels, coppers and oils generally were a shade above Saturday's closing prices. Rubbers, mail orders, chemicals and farm implements were unchanged for the most part. Chesapeake & Ohio slipped to a new bottom in a somewhat easier rail section. Public Service of N. J. also dipped into new low ground. Chrysler gave up a fraction, but General Motors displayed a steady tone.

Roosevelt In Favor Of Buddy Poppy Day Sale

Urges Everyone In Nation To Wear World War Emblem Next Saturday

NESHANNOCK POST SPONSORS EVENT

"We should all wear Buddy Poppies on Memorial Day." With these words, President Franklin D. Roosevelt concludes his written endorsement of the annual national Buddy Poppy sale conducted under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States. In New Castle the sale of Buddy Poppies will be conducted under the auspices of Neshannock Post No. 315. According to Post Commander Charles Marshall, the committee in charge is making plans for a record-breaking sale of the little red flower that have been adopted as America's symbol of remembrance. The letter from the White House read:

"Every orphan deserves a chance for happiness equal to that enjoyed by the average American child. This opportunity is given the orphans of veterans by the V. F. W. National Home at Eaton Rapids, Michigan, maintained by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States. Proceeds from the annual sale of Buddy Poppies make possible the maintenance of this orphanage. Buddy Poppies also offer a source of employment and relief for needy and disabled veterans in their home communities. For these two very real reasons, we all should wear Buddy Poppies on Memorial Day."

U. S. Navy Notes Of Interest Here

Robert Brenden Kelley, 424 Epworth street, son of Mrs. Margaret Kelley, was enlisted in the U. S. Navy at the New Castle Recruiting Office and sent to a Naval Training Station for six weeks recruit training. Kelley will serve until he reaches the age of twenty-one. He was a former student of the Benjamin Franklin Junior High School.

Jack Thomas Lipp, Apprentice Seaman, U. S. Navy, is spending a nine-day furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Lipp, 710 Wilmington avenue. Lipp graduated from the New Castle senior high school, class of 1940, and enlisted at the local Navy office March 11, 1941. During his training period, Lipp was selected through competitive examinations to attend the Electrical School at San Diego, California, and will leave for San Diego during the month of June.

Word was received that Elmer T. Glaser, 276 Lincoln street, Sharon, Pa., was designated as an Honor Man during his inspection period at the Newport Naval Training Station. Glaser was enlisted from the New Castle Recruiting Station.

The invitation of the Navy's Recruiting Service to "see the world through a porthole" will undoubtedly have to be changed, perhaps to "see the world through a gunner's telescope." The recently commissioned North Carolina, and probably all future combat ships of the Navy will be without portholes as a result of one of the lessons learned from the current war. It has been established that the concussion of bombs exploding alongside of ships has blown in portholes, causing internal damage to ships and making the porthole obsolete.

It is not good manners to boast to strangers of your sophistication; it also leads them to think you are naive rather than sophisticated.
